"Mr. Zero of Auction Block" Plans Aid to Unemployed.

NEW YORK — (By Associated Press.) — Urban Lehoucq, the "Mr. Zero of the Auction Block," today extended his plans for helping the jobless by starting negotiations for the lease of a five-story building on Front st. capable of housing and feeding 1,000 men.

In addition, he hopes to have the churches throw open their homes to the unemployed and in planning to call on Bishop Manning of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of New York with the purpose in mind, he began bright and early to recruit an army of human exhibits to show the churchmen that his proteges were worthy of aid.

Appearing in Cooper Square at 7 a. m., he distributed elevated tickets to nearly 200 former service men and their families, and general laborers out of jobs. He explained that he would take these men with him to the grounds of the cathedral of St. John the Divine, where he planned to prove to Bishop Manning that the 200 were not bums and loafers but zealous workers.

The Rev. Clifton Macon, rector of All Souls church today sent to a newspaper a check for the amount he had planned to pay for tickets for the coming week's service and asked that the money be used to feed hungry men and women. He suggested that a world's series between teams finishing second be held for the aid of the unemployed.

PLAN CORN BORER QUARANTINE

Allen-co Not Affected by European Grain Pest.

Allen-co is in danger of being included in the number of places under quarantine on account of the existence of the European corn borer, Clarence Brees, Shawnee, head of the Allen-co Farm bureau, said Thursday.

"The borer has not made its appearance in this section," Brees asserted "and it is not anticipated that the pest will be encountered in this county. I understand that its depredations thus far are confined to Middle Bass and Kelly Islands in Lake Erie and that in some places it has been found in counties along the lake mainland, in Erie and Ashtabula-co notably" the farm bureau head stated.

Officials of the state department of agriculture were advised Thursday that a hearing will be held in Washington Monday to discuss plans for placing a quarantine on northern Ohio counties which are infested by the European corn borer. Brees said that the quarantine probably will allow shortly thereafter.

At the hearing, officials will decide how strict to make the quarantine, what commodities will be included and where the boundary line will be. E. C. Cotton, chief of the state bureau of plant industry, said that the restrictions may be more rigid than they were in the east for the reason that the pest has now reached the corn belt and the menace is greater than it was in New England where relatively little corn is raised.

Once the quarantine is established, state and federal inspectors will be stationed in the quarantined counties.

SCOTCH SERVED AT MOVIE PARTY

Film "Villain" Tells of Scenes in Arbuckle Suite.

FINE LIQUORS DRUNK FREELY

Saw Miss Rappe Tearing Her Clothes. He Says.

NEW YORK — (By United Press.) — Miss Virginia Rappe was drinking and was "hilarious" during the party which preceded her alleged fatal injuries in Arbuckle's apartment in a San Francisco hotel, Lowell Sherman, movie "villain," told District Attorney Swann here today.

Sherman, one of Arbuckle's companions at the party, was taken before Swann at the request of San Francisco authorities, who want him as a witness in Arbuckle's trial for murder of the movie beauty.

Sherman gave Swann a detailed account of the Arbuckle party.

"The refreshments consisted of a very fine quality of Scotch whiskey and an equally fine quality of gin, which I partaken of very freely by every one present," Sherman said.

"I noticed the young lady was rather hilarious, evidently from the effects of the liquor," Sherman continued.

"The next I heard of Miss Rappe was when I came from my room and Mr. Arbuckle said to me, the young lady was ill. His exact words were 'That Rappe girl is sick.' She was then in Arbuckle's room."

"I went in to Mr. Arbuckle's bedroom and looked in the door and saw this young lady in one of the twin beds, tearing off her clothes, clutching at her stomach and evidently in pain, groaning. I looked at the young lady on the bed and realized that she had had something to drink and said 'I guess that little girl has a bun on and has indigestion.'"

Later, Sherman said, the women in the party took off "what of Miss Rappe's clothes that were left on, and put her in a bath tub, 'directly in my line of vision thru Mr. Arbuckle's door.'"

"When Miss Rappe did not revive, the house physician was summoned and Arbuckle rented another room for the girl around the corner from Arbuckle's," Sherman said.

Arbuckle carried Miss Rappe half way from his own room to her own room and the house physician carried her the rest of the way.

Sherman said he talked to Mr. Arbuckle.

"Well, I don't think it is getting to be a little bit rough," he said Arbuckle told him, "and we had better see what we can do. You tell them that the reporters are coming up to see me and they better get out."

Sherman said that was the last he saw of Miss Rappe, and the next day he and Arbuckle returned to Los Angeles.

He said he never asked Arbuckle what took place when he and Miss Rappe were alone in Arbuckle's room and that Arbuckle never had told him.

Sherman declared the party "got on his nerves."

OHIO PATRONAGE ROW SETTLED

Agreement is Reached Between Willis and Harding.

FIGHT ON NAUTS IS OFF

Senator Withdraws Opposition to Confirmation.

WASHINGTON — (By Associated Press.) — What was described as complete agreement to clear up the Republican patronage row in Ohio was reached today at an hour's conference between President Harding and Senator Willis, Republican, of that state.

Under the agreement, it is understood that Senator Willis will withdraw his opposition to the nomination of Charles S. Nauts, as collector of internal revenue for the Toledo district and that a slate of other appointments acceptable to all groups of the party will be closed in the very near future.

Nauts, whose confirmation has been held up for several weeks by the Ohio senator, is said to have been selected by the president on recommendation of Walter F. Brown, chairman of the government reorganization committee and an opponent of Mr. Willis for the senatorial nomination last year.

WASHINGTON — (By United Press.) — Senator Lodge is dissatisfied at the apparent indifference of many Republican senators toward the big and important tasks upon which the senate has begun work.

This indifference, Lodge thinks, was clearly indicated by the absence from the opening session yesterday of 26 Republican senators of a total of 55.

Lodge's leadership has been under fire recently.

"A leader does not amount to anything with so many senators away," said Lodge to his friends in discussing the situation. "With 26 Republicans away after such a long recess, it becomes difficult to get things done."

A jury of 12 men was demanded by the defendants, and considerable time was consumed in securing a panel satisfactory to both sides. Judge Emmett Jackson is hearing the case.

On September 19, Sheriff Charles Baxter received word that someone was stripping a car lying in the ditch on the Marion-co. With Deputy Clarence Froumelter and Patrolman Kipker, he hurried to the scene.

Concealed near the car, the officers are alleged to have watched Sisson remove parts from the machine.

WOMEN SOCIETY LEADERS FORM BUSINESS CONCERNS

CHICAGO — Several Chicago women society leaders went into business for themselves today as "contributors to the new era for women."

They announced the formation of two business enterprises, one an investment company and the other an advertising agency.

The women, all of whom gained recognition for their work, announced their intention of conducting the business themselves but for some reason not divulged, neither firm bears the names of women connected with it.

"War work with its constant demand on our time is over," said Mrs. Frederick D. Combs, one of the new business women. "I felt that we must have something to supplement it. So we made up our minds to go in to business. Women, of means have come times be criticised for taking positions which it was said other women who must earn their living should have. So we are not doing that. Instead, we are creating some position for such women."

WHISKY RECOVERED

Following arrest, Gordon told where the whisky was stored. Sheriff Baxter and state agents found the silt case, containing 24 quarts of bonded whisky, on the Brees farm.

Oldham, in his testimony Wednesday, declared he had given Gordon $5 for expenses on the trip. Efforts of attorneys for Dormire to prove that Oldham promised Gordon a position as federal prohibition agent if he would catch Dormire, failed, it is said.

Trial of Ralph Simes, arrested with Dormire, will be held later in Justice Borkin's court.

Three Master Inventions

Contributed by Optical Science to Human Advancement

From optical science come three master inventions: the telescope; the microscope; and the eyeglass for correcting human vision.

Through the telescope man first glimpsed the astounding truth that we live in a limitless universe.

The microscope uncovered many mysteries of organic life and opened the pathway to modern methods of conquering human diseases.

But perhaps the third invention has added most to the sum total of human happiness — the eyeglass. For to countless millions it has brought physical comfort and the joys of better vision.

What, then, is optical science upon which so much of human welfare depends?

It is a knowledge of the principles of light and its refraction — a field of investigation made illustrious by such names as Galileo, Kepler and Helmholtz.

The trained optical specialist who examines your eyes and prescribes lenses must make use of the same science that constructs the telescope, the microscope, the camera, the range finder for guns, and all other optical instruments.

That there may be a better understanding of optical science in its important relationships to better vision, messages on the history, development, and essential elements of the subject will appear in these pages from time to time.

When the war came and optical science was called upon to play its part, it was discovered that real opticians were not plentiful.

Yet, the optical specialist that is thoroughly competent to measure the refraction of the eye, must first be fully qualified as a real optician. For the eye itself is the most marvelous and precious of all optical instruments.

Accurate knowledge and careful judgment guide a specialist thus trained in determining what lenses to use. With consideration for appearance and comfort he assists the wearer to choose a proper style of eyeglass mountings. By the correct adjustment of each frame to the individual wearer he insures a perfect fit, without which the lenses, though rightly ground, cannot render their utmost aid.

Optical service for the correction of eye-sight defects must be, therefore, of a highly specialized nature.

To offer such a service — scientific, painstaking and complete — is the function of this organization.

Our personnel of experts, our facilities and equipment are devoted to the fulfillment of this ideal and this responsibility — the utmost precision in caring for your vision.

MANY OBSTACLES TO ARMS MEET

Britain, France, Belgium, Italy Face Domestic Difficulties.

PREMIERS MAY NOT ATTEND

Acute Problems at Home Expected to Prevent.

(BY ED. L. KEEN)

LONDON — (United Press) — The road to Washington today was paved with obstacles to every European government.

Great Britain, France, Belgium, Italy — each was faced with domestic difficulties in making plans to send delegates to the disarmament conference called by President Harding for November 11.

Of these four countries it was doubtful if a single premier could attend the full session at Washington.

David Lloyd George of Britain will almost certainly be kept at home by the Irish question and unemployment problems in England.

Carton DeWiat, of Belgium, will have the reconstruction of his government to consider for the Belgian parliamentary election due at the time of the Washington conference.

Signor Donomi of Italy, will probably be requested to remain in Rome as the Italian parliament opens in November.

Artistic Brand, of France, has reiterated his determination to lead the French delegation to Washington, but increasing opposition to his departure, led by his enemies, will make it extremely difficult.

The same domestic problems, which require the presence at home of European prime ministers, will probably prevent the presence in Washington of their ablest "right hand men."

Unemployment in Europe is a more immediate problem even than disarmament and any European statesman whose position depends upon popular support cannot afford to be long away from his constituents this winter.

Nevada has the fewest women, in proportion to total population, of any in the states.

CANNOT TAKE UP WORK THIS YEAR IN SPRING-ST

That it will be impossible for the city to proceed with the boulevard light extension in W. Spring-st, was the opinion of Henry C. Campbell, Columbus, supervising engineer.

Other work will keep the Northern Electric busy, he stated Thursday. It will be impossible to go into Spring-st this year, even if legislation authorizing the city to proceed is passed.

A petition for lighting Spring-st has been circulated among property owners, but has never been presented to council.

PETIT JURY CALL

Will Convene October 3, Week After Grand Jury.

The petit jury for the September term of Allen-co common pleas court will convene on October 3, at 9 a. m., a week after the grand jury has started its labors.

Men who have been called to sit on the petit jury are as follows:

Lorenz Crider, Beaverdam; Finley F. Verbruyne, Lima, second ward; C. M. Willoughby, Conant, A. C. Starke, Lima, second ward; G. P. Johnson, Delphos; L. D. Wentworth, Lima, sixth ward; Virgil Jenkins, Lima, second ward; Jacob (Jav) Allison, Lima, R. F. D. No. 3; Christopher H. Towle, Lima, second ward; B. H. C. Freyman, Richland-tp; James S. Mosgrove, Lima, fifth ward; C. M. Austin, Lima, second ward; G. James H. Westby, Lima, third ward; A. Edward Reynolds, Spencerville; Benjamin Edwards, Lima, R. F. D. No. 3; J. R. Hance, Spencerville; A. J. Shultz, Elida, R. F. D. No. 3; J. M. Yant, West Cairo; Charles W. Seaton, Lima, fourth ward; F. O. E. Bowers, Richland-tp; M. Furry, Lima, R. F. D. No. 3; John Kotter, Spencerville; Charles Green, Lima, sixth ward; E. and Raymond Twining, Lima, first ward.

$5,000 SAVED VETERANS OF THE WORLD WAR

COLUMBUS — More than $5,000 will be saved World War veterans who attend Ohio State institutions of higher learning under the Jones law.

This provides that veterans who have lived for more than one year in Ohio shall be exempt from tuition and matriculation fees. In Ohio State 429 veterans have already enrolled. Miami University, Oxford, has 75 in this category; Kent State Normal 25; Ohio University, Athens, 50; and Bowling Green State Normal, 20.

Few women were included in the number as the United States requirement that they be 25 years old at time of enlistment, has placed them mostly beyond the age when they enter universities.

NEW INDUSTRY TO START HERE

Fred H. Ash, of the A & B Stove Co., of Buttercreek, Mich., which is one of the largest manufacturers of stoves in the United States, has completed deal with the Vapo-Stove Co., of this city, and has accepted the active management of the plant and sales.

Already negotiations have been made whereby the Vapo Stove Co. will take over the old plant of the Lima Sheet Metal Products Co., which is soon to be vacated for the handsome new building of the latter.

Mr. Ash comes to Lima recommended as one of the big men in the stove business of the United States.

RHEUMATISM LEAVES YOU FOREVER

Deep Seated Uric Acid Deposits Are Dissolved and the Rheumatic Poison Starts to Leave the System Within Twenty-four Hours.

Every druggist in this county is authorized to say to every rheumatic sufferer that if two bottles of Allenru, the sure conqueror of rheumatism, does not stop all agony, reduce swollen joints and do away with even the slightest twinge of rheumatic pain, he will gladly return your money without comment.

Allenru has been tried and tested for years, and really marvelous results have been accomplished in the most severe cases where the suffering and agony was intense and piteous and where the patient was helpless.

Mr. James H. Allen, the discoverer of Allenru, who for many years suffered the torments of acute rheumatism, desires all sufferers to know that he does not want a cent of any one's money unless Allenru decisively conquers this worst of all diseases, and he has instructed Hunter's 3 Drug Stores, Enterprise Drug Store, Thompson's 3 Drug Stores, Interurban Drug Store, Public Drug Store to guarantee it in every instance.—Adv.

'How Linoleum is Made'

An Interesting Display In Our South Window

Do you know what Linoleum is made of? Do you know how many countries contribute to its manufacture? Did you ever realize that Cork from sunny Spain—Flax from Siberia, Jute from the Swamps of India, gum from New Zealand are all brought together in the modern floor coverings. It's a long story but we are fortunate in having in our South Window a display of the Famous Armstrong's Process which tells the whole story. It is very educational and interesting so we advise you to look at this exhibit.

WILL YOU GET RICH?

HOW are you getting along in a money way? Is your income, when you have a job, better than the average? Before you can answer that, you want to know, what is the average?

Nobody knows what the average American's income is now. No way of finding out.

But in 1919, according to B. M. Anderson, Jr., economist of the Chase National Bank of New York, the total income of the American people was $68,000,000,000, or nearly three times enough to wipe out the national debt.

That seems a big lot of money. But it's only $645 for every person in the country. That is, in 1919 a bachelor who made $645 was getting along same as the average. A man and wife, to be up to the average, had to have an income of $1290. If there were children, $645 must be added for each child. Otherwise, the family's income lagged behind the national average.

Think back, into 1919. How did you stack up with the average?

HOW difficult is it to get rich? You often wonder. Sometimes it seems next to impossible.

If you want to figure out your chances of becoming wealthy, it's an easy matter. The income tax tells the story.

The latest and most complete income tax figures are for Illinois. These figures show that only 13 in every 200 people admitted, in the last tax returns, that they made more than $1,000 a year. Of course, there were a lot of dodgers.

The average family is supposed to have five members. That indicates that 13 out of every 40 heads-of-families make $1,000 or more a year.

Observe how the list is weeded out when it comes to large incomes, as shown in the following table giving number of those enjoying the larger incomes in Illinois.

Yearly Income	Number
$ 1,000 to $ 2,000	131,659
$ 2,000 to $ 3,000	116,593
$ 3,000 to $ 4,000	66,307
$ 4,000 to $ 5,000	47,505
$ 5,000 to $ 6,000	16,716
$ 6,000 to $ 7,000	10,152
$ 7,000 to $ 8,000	6,910
$ 8,000 to $ 9,000	4,897
$ 9,000 to $10,000	3,333
$10,000 to $15,000	1,019

This table shows that, after your income passes $3000 a year, you get into real competition. Up to then, it's relatively easy.

After you reach the $5,000 mark, you begin to get lonesome. At $10,000, you are a phenomenon.

ILLINOIS, with a population of 6,485,280, has only 60,116 who admit they make more than $5,000 a year, even during a boom.

This looks rather discouraging for the average person.

Wealth, however, is not a matter of how much you make, but of how much you save.

Not one man in 100,000 ever gets rich by increasing his income, his earning power alone. Genuses can do it, but for the most of us the only road to financial independence is thru the receiving teller's window at the savings bank.

CENSORS!

SOME theaters are having the temerity to show "A Twilight Baby," the movie which stars Virginia Rapp—Fatty Arbuckle's victim.

The only appeal this picture now can have is to a morbid curiosity.

If there be any merit in censorship, the censors have a chance to prove it by barring this picture.

"And then follow the testimonials: "How I cured my husband of the drink habit," and the picture of the woman with her arms around the poor ex-um's neck, and she says her glad story, entitled, 'Since John stopped drinking how happy is our little home.'"

COURAGE

What is courage, but the will To do the noblest thing, To meet what comes of good or ill And play the man and soldier still. The hurt and failure sting.

What is courage, but the sum Of all that men have learned, The songs of voices long-since dumb, The call of freedom's stirring drum. The shackles men have spurned.

What is courage, but belief That good shall crown the strife, That disappointment's hours are brief And out of bitterness and grief Men come to larger life.

What is courage, but the grace To meet life's trials well, To bring the splendor of your face To duties grim or common-places Until the final bell.

FORGED FINGER PRINTS

MATCHING of wits between science and crime, like the old one between the projectile maker and the armor plate manufacturer, goes on forever.

The latest scientific defeat has been the admission before the American Bar Association meeting by a finger print expert that finger prints can be forged. The theory that no two finger prints are alike, incapable of absolute demonstration tho it was, had been so far accepted as to be held almost infallible.

The conviction and execution of a New Jersey man, about whose guilt there is now a great amount of question, was wholly upon finger print evidence. The identification by the one witness who saw a man carrying a body to an automobile, on the door of which the finger prints were found, was so debatable as to be unconvincing.

Thus, it follows that, if finger prints can be forged, they can no longer be accepted as infallible, at least without strong corroborative evidence. The Brandon case in New Jersey is a warning, but with the disclosure of the possibility of forged prints, the value of this means of identification as sole proof of guilt is materially weakened.

INTERESTING acrobat is John Williams Cragg, of London. He's 76 years old, but still performs daily on the trapeze and tight wire, for diversion, tho retired. That's a thrilling life.

KISSING CONTEST

APPARENTLY having nothing of a more serious character to occupy their time and attention, aesthetic souls assembled in Paris conducted a contest to determine the "champion kisser" of the world. The winner is Andre Brule. By vanquishing 80 aspirants, he won the award from a committee of beauties of the younger set of Biarritz. In the course of the contest he is said to have turned a number of feminine heads.

Brule's "perfect kiss" was according to the following procedure: He took careful aim and then with his right arm waistward and his left foot used as a pivot, swung suddenly, implanting the kiss exactly on the mouth. Under this plan, the girl has no chance to escape.

The jury styled the American kiss "flaccid," the Russian "eruptive," the Italian "burning," the English "tepid," the Spanish "vampirish," and the French "chaste."

Kissing contests might answer quite well as substitutes for monkey dinners.

WHAT'S THE MATTER WITH US, ANYWAY?

Walter C. Teagle, President of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey, Gives The Lima News the Answer

BY WALTER C. TEAGLE
President, Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey

WAS a little surprised to learn from your question that there is such a difference of opinion among authorities as to the real cause of unemployment and business depression.

Not being an authority on economic conditions, perhaps I am wrong in considering only the obvious reason for the contraction suffered in nearly every line of trade.

I cannot call a financial wizardry to my aid, nor coin any epigrams to make the W. C. TEAGLE present business situation appear the result of mysterious or hidden causes.

To me it issues itself into nothing more nor less than the conventional stage following a period of financial and commercial excesses. There may be any number of contributing causes, but they are the kind of troubles that we always have with us, even in times of great prosperity.

The lowest authorities estimate that I have seen of the actual money cost of the war—that is, the direct tangible loss outside of the fearful toll of human lives—is 176 billion dollars. I believe that eminent economists estimate the direct and indirect costs to date at more than 325 billions of dollars. A large part of that represents actual wealth forever destroyed.

With the world just emerging from the greatest calamity in history, it is not so remarkable that there has been a period of all kinds of business, financial and labor troubles, contributing to what we call a depression, but that we have done so well in meeting our troubles and working back towards normal prices and normal living.

A small boy and a hammer can make a perfect machine, representing months of work by skilled artists, worthless in five minutes. The work of half a century had gone into the system of domestic and international trade which was disrupted overnight by the war. Business friendship of long standing were broken.

It is not necessary to review the train of evils that followed the withdrawal of millions of men from productive pursuits for the purpose of war. Wage scales were abandoned, efficiency suffered, people swung from economy to extravagance, and many other evils quickly developed.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Avoid Indigestion, Sour Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Gas on Stomach, Etc.

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. Chronic acid stomach is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

First, they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excessive secretion or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the latent acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation in the use of a little Bismarck Magnesia at their meals. This is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Disrupted Magnesia, and it is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a detergent but a teaspoonful of the powder or a couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthily without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Disrupted Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid, milk or citrate and in the disrupted form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."—Adv.

HEALTH TALKS

Common Sense Ways to Keep Well
—DUST—

A particle of dust is a tiny druggible that carries disease germs from one place to another. Even dust itself is a menace to health when inhaled into the lungs in any quantity.

In addition to a certain amount of disease germs which every particle of dust holds, it also contains tiny solids that scratch and tear the lungs and breathing apparatus.

Some time ago an analysis was made of dust collected in a vacuum sweeper from book shelves used by visitors to a public library. This analysis showed that the dust was made up of the following materials: Bits of hair, green wool, white wool, cotton fibers, wings of dead flies, grains of sand, wood, paper, string, celluloid, pieces of finger nails, particles of metals and tiny bits of leather.

The analysis also showed that colon bacilli or germs of typhoid fever, dysentery and intestinal troubles existed in great quantities in these dust particles.

Dust from the street is made up of more filthy materials.

Street dust, if not directly the cause of tuberculosis, does irritate the lungs and this renders them susceptible to the attacks of the germs which cause the white plague.

When the throat feels irritated from inhaling dust particles, a mild mouth wash should be used as a gargle to clean out all dust particles that have not already entered the lungs.

IS AMBITIOUS FOR CHILDREN

Mother Wants Offspring Well Educated

Husband Opposes Saving of Money So They May Graduate

Dear Miss Smart: I AM the mother of a large family. My husband's salary is rather small, but my greatest ambition is that all of my children may finish their schooling. I have all the money I can get, but my husband will not let me spend it on my children's education. He gets very angry at me for saving this money and says it is all foolishness. I don't know what to do. I want my children to make something of themselves, but I feel that if I insist upon them attending high school my husband will get angry and leave me. What is your advice to me?

Y OU are certainly a real mother and I am positive that all who read your letter will hold great admiration for you and will sympathize with you because of the narrow and almost ridiculous views of your husband. With all respect to your husband, I will say that had he received a proper education himself he would not be gully of the utterances, of which you accuse him. These days one cannot expect to advance unless he or she is well educated and well informed.

Perhaps some of your children are old enough to work and earn a little money themselves. Probably this would satisfy your husband. If your children are strong and healthy, a little extra work will not injure them. Instill in them the spirit of progress. Show them that one must be ambitious in order to make life worth while. After your oldest child has finished high school and has obtained a good position, it will not be difficult to prove to your husband that a good education is an asset he should want his children to have.

Dear Miss Smart: I have a very lovely ivory set, which was quite expensive. Lately I have been noticing large yellow spots on it. It just makes me sick. I have tried to clean it with soap and water, but it has no effect. Can you tell me of any way to clean it and rid it of these spots?

My advice to you would be for you to write to the manufacturers of your special kind of ivory and ask them the cause of the trouble. Very often ivory turns yellow with age, but you certainly should have not had it long. On ordinary ivory one should never use water, as it has a tendency to turn it yellow. Alcohol should be used to clean it.

Dear Miss Smart: My son went with a woman several years older than himself for several months. They were deeply in love with each other and wanted to be married. Because my son was too young to be married in this state without our consent, this woman induced him to go to another state and they were married. Now I don't think they are happy. I am very much provoked. Do you think I should try to have the marriage annulled?

No, no, no! In no way interfere with their marriage. You would simply be taking a chance of ruining the future happiness of not only your son and his wife but perhaps your own and that of your husband. You say you do not think they are happy. Have you sufficient proof that they are not? If they loved each other sincerely before they were married, there is no reason why they should not be happy now. The time for you to have exerted your influence was before the marriage. Your son is married and now is the time for you to show your motherly love by accepting his wife.

NEW YORK.—Fine feathers may not make the birds, but they certainly make fine fans.

There are seasons when the fan retires modestly into the background, or hides modestly behind the ravens of the Louis Quinze period. But not this season!

In the red and black vividness, there is still another fan of quills and the breasts of birds. Its large, three-pointed shape is quite original.

LETTERS TO LOVERS

ORIGINALITY is the hall-mark of the question men ask about love.

Rarely does a man take his emotional tribulations to a third person. As a rule, when he cannot settle his heart affairs himself, he drops the whole box of tricks, watches the smash, and then proceeds to make another collection.

It is masculine wisdom to live in the present. The past is gone; the future is where it belongs. Not so with woman. She pieces and patches, re-hems and embroiders, washes and bleaches the contents of her "hope chest" indefinitely, and asks the same questions about the repairs year after year.

But poor man gets himself into singular difficulties. For example: "In 1919 I asked a girl to be my wife. She couldn't decide. said she was too young and inexperienced and suggested that her 'yes' two years from that date would doubtless be acceptable. I agreed not to make love to her. I've never made love to anybody else, but this summer I have been taking around a charming young school teacher whom I met on my vacation. I wrote about it to the first-mentioned girl and I have just been beautifully finished off by herself and mother. They take the ground that I have been unfaithful to my vows!"

"Now I like the girl I proposed to. I think I'd like a reconciliation, but—you can see, there are in my mind several buts." Any one can see that the girl fancied that the man was engaged to her—but she was not engaged to the man!

The mind of woman works so, sometimes. She was free to pick and choose among eligible young men for two years, but the man was tied to her by the fact of his proposal! Not all young women will see the humor of the situation, but most men will.

Just fancy trying to live to the end of one's days engineered by that kind of mind! Why should the man consider reconciliation when fate suddenly opens an escape?

THE uniqueness of another letter from a man makes it far more readable than any answer which could be invented. "I have never loved any girl more than three months at a time. Honestly, I'm not a fool. Nor a scamp. I've only watched myself fall for a pretty girl—and then lose interest. I'm twenty-eight and getting pretty weary of the fade-outs. Financially, I'm prepared to marry, but can I ever hope for permanent happiness in 'wedded life'?"

"The 'one right girl' doubtless would make life over for this too introspective and critical person. Un- less found absolutely to his own satisfaction, it would seem fair of him to inform another candidate of her slight chance of permanent happiness."

A girl ought to be allowed to perceive her risk—since Cupid issues no insurance policies.

RAISINS

Remember, do you, the delicious, fruity raisin bread that you used to get before the war—the kind that made you a raisin bread fan? Well, it's coming back!

Yes, sir! Smack your lips, for it's coming. Lower raisin prices have done it.

Raisins are now 39% lower in cost to the baker which permits them to sell a generous loaf at reasonable prices and comply with the late federal edict which requires at least 2 oz. of raisins to each 16 oz. loaf of bread.

So look for a big revival of real raisin bread. Your baker and your grocer will be selling it. You'll see it in their windows and show cases. The "old days" are returning in more ways than one. Good old fashioned raisin bread with raisins in it is proof of it.

MOST PITIFUL SIGHT IN LIFE

is a man or woman who has no "will-power" as a result of nerve force exhaustion

All the physical suffering which may be caused by nervous irritability, backaches, indigestion, heart palpitation, etc., as a result of nerve force exhaustion, are nothing as compared with its awful effects upon the mind and "Willpower."

The most pitiful sight in life is a man or woman who has "no will-power" as a result of nerve force exhaustion. The judgment is bad and everything therefore seems to go wrong.

In such cases, do not take mere stimulating medicines nor narcotics (which only further injure your delicate nervous system), but what you need is something to put more nerve force into your nerves and more iron into your blood to help make new nerve force with which to feed your starving nerve cells. This is most effectively accomplished by the free use of Nuxated Iron.

This valuable product contains the principal chemical constituent of active living nerve force in a form which most resembles that in the brain and nerve cells of man. It also contains strength giving organic iron or the blood and may therefore be said to be both a blood and nerve food. Over 4,000,000 people are using it annually. Satisfactory results are guaranteed to every purchaser or the manufacturers will refund your money. Beware of substitutes. Look for the word "Nuxated" on every package. Sold by all druggists.

COACH YOUNG DEVELOPING SPEEDY ELEVEN AT SOUTH HI--INAUGURATES SECRET SYSTEM

(By BILL BARLOW)

WORKING on the supposition that a pleasant surprise is better than a keen disappointment, Coach Young, football pilot at South Hi, has one of the most promising squads in recent years toiling on the practice field.

They will play their second game of the season on their new athletic field Friday afternoon with St. Marys Hi. Last Saturday they defeated Rayson Hi at College field by a score of 22 to 0.

While Coach Young has hopes of making a creditable showing, students and supporters of South Hi go further and believe it will take a powerful aggregation to win from this year's eleven.

They back up these assertions by pointing to the number of veterans on hand, as well as the promising candidates from last year's scrub and freshman teams.

The South Hi mentor showed Lima grid followers last season that the school's ability to develop a football machine must be respected.

Teams which play South Hi this season will be treated to a number of football points never seen in this section. Coach Young has evolved a system of defensive and offensive play which is certain to cause trouble for opponents. These new ideas cannot be divulged at this time.

A squad of 33 candidates was out on South's field Wednesday evening.

In the practice, not a single detail was overlooked in the development of the men. Young instructed candidates for the forward wall in various methods of blocking and charging.

The South Side coach was a line man during his palmy days at Wittenberg. His knowledge gained there has been increased by observation and combined with his own ideas.

The backs were lined up in a circle and the ball passed to one another with instructions to hold it. With one point of the oval drawn up under the arm and the other end held securely by the hand, the coach and other players attempted to knock the ball out of the player's grasp.

Instructions in dodging, with the side step a dominant factor, also were given. The backs then were lined in skeleton squads.

In running up and down the field in this manner the main object was to grasp the rhythm of signals and shifts. This is one of the surest ways to master a running attack in which the backfield shifts, generally toward the strong side of the line. Toward the end of the afternoon the men did well, and with a full week of practice should have this feature well in hand.

Sport Cores

Everytime the ball flew down from pitcher's box to plate, he swung with all his might, too soon or else too late.

Frush Now Claims He Won Fight

CLEVELAND. — Declaring that he had been deliberately fouled several times, Danny Frush of Baltimore, who was knocked out by Johnny Kilbane last Saturday in the contest for the featherweight championship, issued a signed statement today in which he claims the title.

He said he was not only fouled before the second round when Kilbane hit him in the groin with his knee, but later on when the champion continued fighting after the bell had rung and Frush had dropped his arms.

Frush explains that he waited with his statement until the public had a chance to see the moving pictures of the bout. He contends he should have been declared the victor in the first round or counted out, alleging he would have been counted out if the referee did not think he had been fouled.

"I therefore think I am entitled under all the rules of the game to the featherweight championship of the world and hereby proclaim myself to be such," the statement continues. "I am now ready to defend that title against any and all comers."

Harry Harper Shows Up Big In Yank's Box

Last year, a left-handed Moses went to Cleveland and led the Indians to a pennant.

This year, it seems that another southpaw might be able to guide the footstep of the New York Yankees out of the darkness in which they long have been floundering.

Harry Harper, who drew laughs from the wise ones when Miller Huggins picked him off the chute last winter, is playing the role of Duster Mads, the Cleveland saviour of 1920.

Harper, with a broken finger, sustained early in the season, polished a seat in the dugout until a few weeks ago when Huggins had to use him in a pinch. He's working regularly now and turning in games regularly.

The smiling southpaw has not only turned in his last four games for the New Yorkers, but has shown impressive form in every victory.

Tribe One Point Now From Lead

THE New York Americans still holding first place in the thrilling struggle for supremacy in the American League, today found the Cleveland club close at their heels, a single percentage point separating the two teams.

The Yankees, idle yesterday because of rain dampened the Polo grounds, were obliged to confine their activities to reading the score from Boston where Cleveland turned the tables on the Red Sox and defeated them.

Today originally was an open date for the Yankees, but, weather permitting, they were to play Detroit the time postponed from yesterday. Cleveland was scheduled to conclude its series in Boston.

The results in the National League were favorable to the New York Giants, whose lead over Pittsburgh today amounted to four full games.

The Giants defeated Chicago in an old fashioned slugfest match, and Brooklyn with Clarence Mitchell, a left hander, in the box won from the Pirates 2 to 0 in seven innings.

By twice defeating the Chicago White Sox, Washington recaptured fourth place in the American League. After seven straight victories, the St. Louis Cardinals were stopped by the Boston Braves who won in the ninth inning.

Night fielders were the only home run hitters yesterday. Nicholson of the Boston Nationals hitting his fifth of the season and Goslin of Washington making his first.

Second Baseman Harris of Washington handled seventeen fielding chances without an error in the double-header with Chicago.

COLUMBUS — The Jungle Imps, a local semi-professional football team, has announced that it has obtained a game with Ohio Northern University at Ada, Ohio, on October 1. A game between Ohio Northern and Cincinnati for that date was cancelled.

Miss Lake is very attractive as Kathleen, while George Stewart, who is Anita's kid brother, makes a very real character of the weak boy who commits forgery and later suicide. Al Roscoe is the broad-minded business man and Alan Hale is the villain. Better photography and a more forceful handling of the really big scenes would have added much to the production.

price of one admission. Look at this list: Grace Valentine, Kathryn Williams, Matt Moore, Fairo Bidney, Harry Morey and Roland Bottomley. They are all in "A Man's Home," a Selick picture, written by Edward J. Montague from a story by Anna Steese Richardson and Edmund Brees. Ralph Ince is director.

HOW MUCH IN REAL MONEY? Watterson R. Rothacker, back from a trip to Europe, says German film producers seem anxious to correct the impression that films can be made cheaply in Germany. He was told in Berlin that "Deception" cost $3,000,000 marks and "The Golem" nearly 3,000,000 marks. And his informants took oath that the new Joe May picture, "The Indian Tomb," and the next big Lubitsch picture, "The Wife of Pharaoh," will run into about 20,000,000 marks each.

STILL BATTILING Fred C. Quimby is still battling, in behalf of himself and Tex Rickard, to break down the barriers in various states against showing the Dempsey-Carpenter pictures. By October he hopes to have the pictures on exhibition in all western states.

When he broke away from comedy he appeared in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," "The Last of the Mohicans" and "The Tale of Two Worlds."

In "The Northern Trail" he was a heart-winning, hard-fighting bully. Next he was the crook in "The Policeman and the Baby." Then he was an escaped convict in "The Ne'er to Return Road," the Lamb's prize-winning story written by Mrs. Otis Skinner.

And now he is a villainous, treacherous, half-breed Chinese doctor in James Oliver Curwood's "The White Mouse."

Off the screen Beery isn't a bit ferocious. Fishing is his favorite exercise. And he is self-appointed valet to a prize collection of wild ducks and pheasants.

There are two secrets in Beery's past. In his early movie days he played servant girl parts for two years—way back—he was an elephant trainer in a circus.

The chorus has been selected with an eye to youth, beauty and ability to sing and dance. There are more than twenty song numbers in the merry play, at least half of which are credited with being pronounced hits.

The three acts show six picture- esque scenes, starting with the coast of Brittany, thru Mexico and finally taking you on the stage of the New York Winter Garden.

A portrait of Mabel Ballin, Hol- kinson star, has been painted by W. T. Benda, magazine artist.

Pola Negri has a new contract that pays—says rumor—the German equivalent of $2000 a week. Must be about 200,000 marks a week!

Dorothy Dalton will be featured in the screen version of Frank Norris' novel, "Moran of the Lady Letty."

Wedgwood Newell, movie villain, claims to hold the record for cine- matographic deaths. He dies in nearly every picture.

TO REDUCE DANGEROUS VARICOSE VEINS

People who have swollen veins or bunches should not wait until they reach the bursting point, when means must be used to prevent further suffering and loss of time, but should at once secure from any reliable druggist a two-ounce original bottle of Moore's Emerald Oil (full strength).

By using this powerful, yet harmless, painless treatment improvement is noticed in a few days and by its regular use swollen veins will return to their normal size and sufferers will cease to worry. Moore's Emerald Oil treatment is used by physicians and in hospitals and is guaranteed to accomplish results or money returned.

It reduces all kinds of enlarged varicose veins and is used exclusively in many large factories as an antidote, silver or stung by an insect.

Generous sample on receipt of 10 cents, silver or stung by an insect. Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y. Your druggist, or Hunter's Drug Stores, 1400 Broadway, New York City, or Drug Store, Public Drug Store can supply you.—Adv.

Easy For Thin People To Put on Flesh and Gain Weight

It's such an easy matter nowadays for thin, weak, scrawny people to put on good healthy flesh and become plump and graceful that one often wonders why there are still so many people who suffer from "skin and bone," unhealthily and unpleasant to look upon.

Physicians have long known that whoever could discover a remedy that would cause the food that one puts into the stomach to turn into good, rich flesh-making blood instead of being put to waste, would also discover how to put healthy, muscular flesh onto undernourished people and this has been accomplished.

If you are thin, under developed, nervous, weak or lack vigor and vitality, you can secure at any good pharmacy at moderate cost, a ten days' treatment of EVANS' TRIPLE PHOSPHATES, a new combination of flesh-producing, muscle building, strength creating elements that is guaranteed to put good solid flesh on your body and to make you strong, healthy and vigorous, or money back.

Physicians who have watched the results of the Evans' Triple Phosphates treatment are astonished at its rapid action—often in a month five to ten pounds of valuable weight is gained. Hunters' Drug Stores, Thompson's Drug Stores, Butler's Drug Store have agreed to supply readers of this paper with Evans' Triple Phosphates and to do just what is claimed for it or money returned.—Adv.

SHORT SHAVINGS

The composer appeared in the office of the publisher one morning, and with calm assurance returned a check for $200. "You can destroy that," he told the publisher, "and make out one to my credit for $500."

"Nonsense," came the reply. "That's your royalty to date for your last song."

"Oh, no, it isn't," said the composer. "Do you mean to insinuate that the firm is—"

"I insinuate nothing. I make the simple statement that I want $500 in royalties. For the first time in my life I am positive as to the amount I married your book-keeper yesterday."

The reason there are so few good husbands is that the test is so severe. A really good husband will register something which looks like genuine grief on learning that the household's favorite fern has died in spite of everything that could be done for it.

A woman went to her provision dealer to pay her bill. Knowing the man pretty well, she said: "I had quite a laugh over the way someone in your shop spelled 'salmon' and she pointed out on the line the item '3 pounds psalmon'."

The grocer looked at it and said:

A Nutritious Diet for All Ages Quick Lunch at Home or Office A Substitute in a tone of contempt for such ignorance. That's the work of a new book-keeper, but he's got to learn to spell correctly if he wants to stay with me. Let me correct the bill, madam."

Taking a pen, he drew several lines thru the word and wrote above it "sammon."

"There, madam," he said complacently, handing back the bill.
